LITERARY NOTICES.

GODDEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—The October Number of this splendid monthly, is received. It is richly embellished with plates and stored with beautiful thoughts. It is an ornament anywhere, and in all respects as good as it is beautiful. Published at Philadelphia.

ALMANAC.—We are indebted to Messrs. FOWLER & WELLS, of New York, for their elegantly illustrated Phenological Almanac. Also, for part 1, 2 and 3, of Fruits and Farinaceous, a most excellent work upon the subject of vegetable diet, by John Smith, with notes, and illustration by Robert T. Hall.

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN.—Perhaps there is no popular scientific periodical issued from the American press, comparable to this, in adaptation to the necessities of an intelligent people. Each number contains eight large quarto pages, of nearly all original matter—amply illustrated with fine engravings. Published Weekly, by M^rs & Co., New York, at $2 per annum.

AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST.—This is an important agricultural publication, which we should like to see in every farm house in the land. It is national in its character and adapted to all parts of the United States.

Published by Allen & Co., New York, $1.00 per annum.

From the New York Herald.

NEBRASKA PALLADIUM.

The first number of the "Nebraska Palladium," a handsome looking sheet, published at Bellevue City, Nebraska—has reached us by mail. No more signal evidence can be afforded of the concurrent rapidity with which intellectual and material progress go hand in hand, in this country, than the appearance of this journal. Before the Territory itself can be said to be effectively organized, and before even the first physical necessities of life have been fully provided for, we find measures taken to supply these mental cravings which constitute the most pressing, as they are the noblest aspirations of our infant communities. Such facts constitute the real secrets of the great and predominating influence which this country already exercises in the affairs of the world. Where, even in the humblest condition of life, mental cultivation is placed above all merely sensual gratifications, nothing can arrest the progress of a people, whose mission seems to us, to be the lessons drawn from the past, and to create for man, a more hopeful future.

We confess, that we opened the first number of our Nebraskan contemporary, with some misgivings as to the result of labors pursued under such unfavorable conditions, as it must for the present be placed under. We never were more agreeably disappointed. In point of style, vigor and correctness of diction, there are not many papers in the Union, that can pretend to surpass it. In its business columns, too, may be found announcements that show that the city of Bellevue is already in such a state of advancement, as to be in a position to satisfy all of the reasonable demands of life.

By way of a specimen of the lyrical genius of young Nebraska, as well as of a moral to our article, we cannot more appropriately bring our observations to a close, than by transcribing from our contemporary, the following effusion, which was sung at the Bellevue Fourth of July celebration:

Come out to the West! no longer remain
In the land where old Mammon doth reign.
Oh! come to Nebraska, the haven of rest,
Where the poor and the needy shall never be oppressed.

Our soil is rich, and our prairies are wide;
The larch strings of our cabin hang always outside.

A right hearty welcome a stranger will find,
For the sons of Nebraska are social and kind,

TESTIMONY OF A PHYSICIAN.

Extract of a letter dated Pittsburgh, January 12th, 1852: "I will say that your Mustang Liniment is the best Liniment I ever used, I have used it in my own case, along the lower part of the spine, for spinal irritation, with complete success. I used it a few nights ago when I was perfectly crooked, and my back in complete torture, from what the books would call Opiosthoton condition of the muscles, which you know is about as bad as 'lock-jaw.' It gave immediate relief, and in the morning I could bend like a guitar perchance, and with as little pain. The medical profession, you know, have a great aversion to these kinds of remedies, but from a knowledge of the ingredients of the Mustang Liniment, I would have no hesitation in recommending it, wherever a really terrible pain is indicated. I have recommended it in a number of cases in my own practice, and as far as I can learn it has acted with equal celerity and certainty as in my own case. Hoping that it may be used for and relieve my pain, 'cause it exists, and that is my remuneration well for your exertions or bringing so valuable a remedy before the public. Truly yours,

GEO. H. KEYSER, M. D.
